

WILL ORGANIZE THE NEW BOARD

Rate Commission Prepares To Begin Its Operations In Madison At Once.

TO PERFECT THEIR ORGANIZATION

Must Elect President And Secretary And Secure Suitable Quarters For Their Offices And Consultation Rooms.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 8.—John Barnes of Rhinelander is expected to arrive in Madison at noon today for the purpose of the organization of the new Wisconsin railroad rate commission. Should his arrival be delayed the organization will not take place until Monday. Halvor Erickson and Prof. B. H. Meyer, the other two members of the commission, have been struggling with the problem of securing quarters in the capitol. Only one room is available on the second floor of the building and unless Railroad Commissioner J. W. Thomas consents to vacate his quarters the new commission will doubtless occupy some of the improvised legislative committee rooms on the fourth floor, although these are undesirable. Pressure has been brought to bear on the present commissioner to give up his commodious rooms, but he refuses to do so. It was proposed that the new commission confine itself to the present to the room occupied during the session by the assembly committee on judiciary, but Prof. Meyer refused, insisting that each member of the commission have a private office and that there be a conference room in addition to these. He said that to crowd the commission would be a great waste of time and would interfere with good work.

Commissioner Erickson has already prepared a quantity of statistics to be used as the basis of the first work of the commission, but these will not be accepted by Prof. Meyer unless they are carefully checked over and verified to his complete satisfaction. The organization of the commission will consist in the election of a chairman and perhaps of a secretary. It is known that John M. Winterbottom of Madison is working for the latter place. He is now deputy railroad commissioner and his friends are urging him for the place because, they say, he has made a special study of railroad law and regulation and is particularly well fitted for the work. The situation pays a salary of $2,500 a year. It is said to be doubtful whether Winterbottom has the support of the administration in his candidacy.

The state civil service commission may also organize today, but it is more likely that this will not be accomplished until a week later. Dr. S. E. Sparling, a member of the commission, said yesterday that positively not one application had been filed for the position of secretary. This to him appeared to be strange and he desired that the fact be made public for in that event candidates would spring up all over the state.

STATISTICIAN GAVE OUT INFORMATION

Government Officer Furnished Speculators with Gist of Cotton Reports in Advance.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Washington, July 8.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson this morning formally dismissed Edwin F. Holmes, his associate statistician, on the ground that he furnished advance information on the government cotton reports for speculative purposes. The report of the secret service investigator shows that Holmes received $75,000 from a firm of brokers, presumably for this advance service. There will be no prosecution, however, as no statute has ever been enacted which will cover the case. The investigation was made on complaint of the Southern Cotton Growers' association, the members of which were injured as a result of the transactions.

Composer of the Famous Song Dies at His Home in New Hampshire.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Manchester, N. H., July 8.—Walter Kittredge, a poet and author of the song "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" is dead at his home at Reed's Ferry.

Treatment for Frayed Cuffs.

There is a better way to make one's frayed cuffs presentable than to pare them with the scissors. Says a writer: "With the first touch of steel the cuff is ruined. Light a match and pass it round the frayed edge (do not burn your wrist). The cleansing fire will remove the dross and leave intact the pure gloss of the cuff. A cuff treated with fire will last laundry generations longer than the cuff treated with steel."

Rats Walk on Wire.

At Sligo a crowd watched nearly 150 rats cross high above the ground on an electric wire, from the town hall to a floor mill over 200 yards away. The rats used their tails as the professional walker on the lofty wire uses his balancing pole, and not one made a misstep.

ADMIRAL WHITING ON RETIRED LIST

Man Appointed to Navy from This State in 1860 Completes Long Term of Active Service.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, July 8.—Rear Admiral William H. Whiting was placed on the retired list today on account of age. He was appointed to the navy from Wisconsin in 1860; was made an ensign in 1863, and three years later a master. He received his commission as lieutenant commander in 1868, as commander in 1882 and in 1897 was made a captain. Admiral Whiting has seen much active service. Capt. Willard H. Brownson of New York attains this rank with the retirement of Admiral Whiting.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

A jury in the case of Congressman J. N. Williamson, indicted in connection with the land frauds, was selected yesterday in Portland. An application for bail for Messrs. Gaynor and Greene, who are fighting extradition, was refused yesterday by the Court of Kings Bench in Montreal, Canada.

President Angell in an address to summer school students at the University of Michigan last evening on "The European Concert and the Monroe Doctrine" proposed an American concert for western protection.

Adrian H. Larkin of New York has sued C. F. Leach, collector of customs at Cleveland, Ohio, to compel him to return certain of Mrs. Chadwick's jewels, which Mr. Larkin says were obtained from him wrongfully.

Fourteen miners were killed and a number injured by an explosion in a colliery at Anderlues, Belgium. Albert Keller of Michigan City, Ind., appealed a case in which judgment had been rendered against him in the sum of 1 cent.

On July 17, the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Railway Agents will assemble at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Roy Snively was instantly killed in a runaway on his father's farm north of Sterling, Ill. He was thrown from a hay rake, breaking his neck. Ed Stuckey, one of the eight convicts who escaped from the United States penitentiary at McNeil's island, Ore., last Monday, has been captured.

Charles Reed, a rural free delivery carrier of De Witt county, Illinois, was taken to Bloomington to answer to the charge of embezzling $55 sent by him to be forwarded in money orders. He was sent to the federal jail at Springfield in default of $4,000 bonds.

PAUL JONES' BODY ON HONORED TRIP

French Torpedo Boat Transfers Remains to Flagship of Admiral Sigsbee at Cherbourg.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cherbourg, July 8.—Amid the firing of salutes the body of Admiral Paul Jones was transferred to the United States armored cruiser Brooklyn, the flagship of Admiral Sigsbee, today, by a French torpedo-boat and the American squadron which came to receive the remains of the distinguished naval officer started for home. The ships will proceed to Chesapeake bay, taking the body to Annapolis, where it will be buried with great ceremony.

Paris, July 8.—Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, who came here to receive the body of Paul Jones on the part of his government, left Paris today, to continue his tour of inspection of the American embassies and legations of Europe.

JUDGE GRAY DECIDES SHOT-FIRER QUESTION

Expense to Be Shared Alike by Operators and Miners, Since Both Parties Are Benefitted.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—By the decision of Judge Gray, fifth member of the board of arbitration to settle the controversy between the United Mine-workers of Illinois and the Illinois Operators' association, the operators and miners alike must share the expense of the operation of the shot firers law.

The decision was made public after the report of the scale committee of miners and operators. In his decision Judge Gray cites among his reasons for the stand he has taken that the provision for inspection included in the duties of the shot firers is a benefit to the operators and that its mission is one of humanity.

The operators' association takes the decision of Judge Gray with much disappointment.

"The decision is a bitter disappointment to the operators," said Herman Just, commissioner of the association. "But having agreed to arbitrate the question in dispute, the operators will swallow their medicine and make as few grimaces as possible. The decision is neither milk nor water."

The miners look at the decision in a different light. Secretary W. D. Ryan said:

"I am satisfied. While the decision divides the expenses, the miners' organization is exonerated of any violation of its contracts."

The operators said that as rapidly as shot firers could be secured the mines of the state would be placed in operation. The wages agreed upon for shot firers and inspectors is $4 a day. The day will consist of eight hours.

EUROPE HOSTILE TO AMERICAN INDUSTRY

Agricultural, Commercial and Live Stock Representatives Confer in Windy City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., July 8.—It is evident in commercial circles that the fight which prominent representatives of the agricultural, commercial and live stock industries throughout the country propose to make at the convention to be held here next month will be a bitter one. The plan of the commercial men, it has become known, is to combat the threatened commercial war, so evident in the prevailing prospective discriminating taxes against the products of the United States.

TENNIS TEAMS FROM VARIOUS COUNTRIES COMMENCE THE PLAY.

Purpose of Session of Board of Governors of American Cotton Manufacturers' Association.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Asheville, N. C., July 8.—The Board of Governors of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association met at Kenilworth Inn, Baltimore, today. Representatives from several southern cities appeared before the board presenting invitations for the next convention to be held in their cities, the board having met for this purpose.

STATE NOTES

Boys playing with matches caused a fire in the barn of Peter Jensen, Racine, the building, with 100 bushels of oats, two tons of hay, buggies and harnesses, being destroyed.

Burglars have resumed operations in Racine. Friday morning it was discovered that the large Center street drugstore had been entered. Rubber water bottles, other goods, $5 in money, $5 worth of postage stamps, etc., were taken. At the residence of S. Larsen they secured $100 in gold.

General Supt. Frederick of the Milwaukee railway company visited Kenosha in an effort to secure a right-of-way by which the company could enter the city. The line of the company between Chicago and Milwaukee will run half a mile to the west of the Kenosha city limits. Cars will be running as far as Kenosha by the first of October.

Lars A. Jensen, a former well-known young man of Kenosha, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun while hunting near his old home in Denmark on June 22. Jensen had been married only a few days before the accident and had engaged passage for himself and bride to this country. It was expected that he would arrive at Kenosha next Monday.

MUTINEERS AT RUSSIAN PORT

Government Gun Boats Have Not Yet Captured The Pirate Craft Of Their Fleet.

SITUATION IS STILL VERY CRITICAL

It Is Feared That Other Of The Russian Vessels Will Join The Rebels When They Come In Contact With Them.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Kustenji, Roumania, July 8.—The mutinous battleship Potemkin arrived here at midnight. The port captain boarded the vessel for a conference with the crew. Throughout the night the Potemkin exchanged signals with the Russian gunboat Paensupe, which so far has remained loyal to the government.

Ready to Surrender

The battleship surrendered at one o'clock this afternoon. This morning a deputation from the battleship rowed ashore and offered to surrender Potemkin and the torpedo boat which accompanied her on her piratical trip on the same terms offered by authorities on Monday. This was agreed to providing the breach-blocks were removed from the guns as a pledge of good faith on the part of the mutineers. The deputation returned to the vessel to consult their comrades and the surrender followed. Two sailors who came ashore with the deputation deserted.

London, July 8.—The Odessa correspondent of the Standard sends a report that Admiral Krieger's squadron engaged the Kniaz Potemkin, many of the mutinous crew being killed and wounded. The vessel escaped. The report is not confirmed.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—According to the latest reports, the Kniaz Potemkin has escaped its pursuers, and is still at large in the Black sea, with the torpedo boat destroyer Smeltvii and the Black sea fleet hot on the trail.

One report is that the mutineers have sailed westward in the direction of Livadia, raising the suspicion that it is their intention to bombard the emperor's summer palace. Another rumor is that when the Kniaz Potemkin was last seen it was headed south-east, as if bound for the Caucasus littoral. This subsequently was supplemented by a report from Sevastopol that the pirate warship had put into Taupse, half way to Poti, and had been captured in some mysterious fashion by soldiers.

As Deserters

The crews were informed they would be treated as foreign deserters. The surrendered men are landed and being dispatched in small parties to different places in Roumania.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Milwaukee, July 8.—District Attorney McGovern intimated this morning that about forty indictments will be returned by the grand jury on Monday afternoon. While most of them will be against persons already under indictment at least three, and perhaps six, additional members of the county board will be on the list. Indictments are also expected against several members of the legislature based on the defeat of the primary election bill of 1902-03.

MEN ON SMALL WAGE BURDEN OF TEXAS

Peculiar Conditions at Pittsburg Permit Millions to Escape With Nominal Taxes on Incomes.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 8.—Investigation of the records of the assessor's office has revealed some amusing figures setting forth the valuations placed on the property of the taxpayers of this city.

It is shown that men on small salaries in offices in Pittsburg are frequently assessed heavier on "occupation" than are the millionaires. The "occupation" is supposed to represent annual income and on this the assessment is made.

It is therefore somewhat startling to find that there are but two men in Pittsburg whose occupation or income is assessed at as high as $10,000. One of them is H. C. Frick, acknowledged to be worth $70,000,000, and the register of wills, Stengel, whose salary is $5,000, but who it appears has had a fight with the town fathers.

Other strange figures on the "occupation" of well-known millionaires are as follows: T. Hartgoven, president of the Farmers' Deposit National bank and one of the town's wealthiest men, pays on $1,000 "occupation"; President C. H. McDowdrey of the Union Trust company, a corporation capitalized at $20,000,000, pays taxes on only $500; and A. C. Dickey, president of the Carnegie Steel company, pays on $5,000; B. F. Jones of the Jones & Laughlin company on $2,500; Bank Commissioner Robert McAfee Adams, $5,000 salary, but pays taxes on $1,000.

James W. Friend, a high official in thirty corporations, the man who is said to have lost $800,000 to "Cassio Chadwick, and then laughed about it, is down for an occupation valued at $2,500. James H. Lockhart, son of the late Charles Lockhart of Standard Oil fame and who is said to be worth $100,000,000, is assessed at $1,000.

Pictures of the Great Celebration Are
of the Public.

Despite the rain and drizzle on the Fourth several very good pictures of the famous Nonesuch Bros. circus parade were taken. The fame of this attraction has gone round the United States from New York to California. Almost every paper in the state mentioned that Janesville would celebrate and now many of them repeat the compliment by saying that Janesville did celebrate. The New York Tribune of Sunday, July 2, gave space to a picture of last year's parade and a reading notice and even the New York World and New York Herald mentioned that Janesville planned a "Novel and unique celebration in the form of a burlesque circus."

Pleased Visitors.
It really appears that Janesville has done something wonderful. Visitors from other cities in the state are telling of the good time they had here on Tuesday despite the rain and it looks now as though the day was a success after all. Lake Mills papers say many from that city enjoyed a good time and heard their band play fine music. From all along the Milwaukee Point division of the St. Paul road comes a wall from persons who were frightened out by rain and now wished they had come. Chicago people who came up for the day have written back to friends that it was an ideal celebration and Madison papers say that the persons who said home to see Bannum and Bailey are sorry they did not come to Janesville to see a real live show.

Streets Beautiful.
On all sides is heard the remark that the streets never looked handsomer and it is suggested that if there is any money left from the

Not Realized.

The time and work devoted to the different exhibits in the parade is not perhaps realized by those who saw it. The Nonesuch Bros. circus was first thought of some seven or eight years ago by Charles Bostwick and H. H. Bliss. Its first parade came as a surprise to the whole town. It was a success from the first appearance over the top of the Milwaukee street hill. Then followed other parades each one better than the last. It has been commented upon that this year's parade lacked the graphic description of the "barkers" and that many of the people did not understand or appreciate what the different exhibits represented.

A Good Advertisement.

The celebration was one of the best advertisements the city of Janesville ever had. It attracted a wide amount of attention all over the country. It will be talked of by those who were present for some time to come. By those who failed to attend with regret. The real motto of booming a town is to get people talking about it and the fame of Janesville as a Fourth of July center will go a long ways to fill this want.

Beloit Ambitious.

Even Beloit is ambitious. In fact a little envious. Of Janesville's fame as the home of the Nonesuch Brothers' circus. Now they propose that next year the circus be given in Beloit. That is well enough to talk,

CHARLES BOSTWICK AS LADY CURZON

Orleans he tells of his journey by rail. Among the interesting things he writes is a description of the bridge crossing the Ohio river near Cairo, which follows:

"The bridge crosses the Ohio river about two miles north of Cairo and we passed this city not nearer than the river or about three-quarters of a mile. I understand that there are no bridges at Cairo, across the Ohio river at least, and a short line is operated between the bridge junction and the city so that passengers for the South do not pass through as might be inferred from the map or time table and do not see it except from the other side of the river. The track approaches the bridge at an angle and for a distance of over half a mile, is elevated partly by rocks and partly by trestle work so one looked down from the cars a distance of from 75 to 100 feet. The bridge proper is something like 3,500 feet in length. There is about a mile of trestle work from the bridge proper down on the Kentucky side. Immediately after crossing the bridge into Kentucky, the fact was made manifest by the passengers getting on, some who addressed each other as 'Colonel,' which character some of them personified very decidedly. We crossed the Ohio river just at dusk and then it began to rain hard and continued until I went to sleep."

Liked New Orleans.
In continuing he described the noticeable difference between the houses, farms and people of the south and those of the north and dwelt on the slowness that is peculiar to the residents of the warmer climates. In part he said:

"The last thirty or forty miles into New Orleans is low and at present is Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, July 8, 1865.—The State Fair.—It is rumored about town that it has been definitely settled that we are to have the state fair here again this fall. Hope it is true.

A Good Thing to Do.—The Northwestern Road has just put in an excellent crossing across Pleasant St., costing over one hundred dollars. A good thing to do, and might be imitated by the Prairie du Chien road in some instances.

Census of the City.—We learn that the census of the city has been taken complete, but we are not in receipt of the figures. The population is said to be only about 8,000, which is too small by at least 2,000.

Sued the Company.—We understand that Mr. Woodward whose wife was killed by being run over on the Northwestern road in this city last winter, has sued the railroad company for damages in the circuit court in Milwaukee county, before Judge MacArthur.

Ford's Theatre Not Purchased.—The Board of Trustees appointed by the Young Men's Christian Association to purchase Ford's Theatre to convert into a Lincoln Memorial building, have published a card to the effect, that owing to the backwardness of the public to aid the undertaking, they are compelled to relinquish the undertaking for the present. They hope, however, to be enabled to erect a suitable monument at no distant period.

The Newburn Times states that "spotted fever has been raging fearfully among the blacks, as well as the whites in Wilmington, and it is whispered that yellow fever is threatened. We learn these facts from Wilmington officially."

There are 233 patients in Harvey Hospital at the present time. Of these 213 are at Camp Randall, and at the Farewell building.

The site of the Western Navy Yard has at last been determined upon. It is to be located just below Jefferson Barracks at St. Louis, Missouri.

The Delaware Senate now in session at Dover, refused, on Tuesday last, to concur in the resolutions in respect to the memory of President Lincoln, passed by the House.

SUITABLE FOR MANY OCCASIONS

A soft shade of rose pink, or, rather, rose red, for it shows more red than pink, tulle is used for this smart frock, which, however, is simple enough in point of construction. The bodice follows simple lines, pleated lace and shirred bands, both making and defining the vest portion, and the full folds are drawn into a cleverly constructed belt that fastens at the side. The sleeve shows a shallow top puff, and a deeper one sits in front to display an under puff of lace, and the cuff likewise is of this same lace. The skirt is tucked all around the top, the tucks released below the curve of the hip, and at the knee an insertion of broad lace with a ruffled lace heading is employed, the finishing circular flounce of silk being applied to this, with a ruffled heading that is cleverly festooned at intervals.

Witness Refuses to Bring Books into Milwaukee Court.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 8.—Further complications in the General Paper Company's case resulted from the examination of E. T. Harmon of Grand Rapids, Wis., director of the Grand Rapids Pulp and Paper Company. Because of his refusal to answer the question whether he would bring the books and records of his company into court the attorneys for the government say they will ask Judge Seaman for an order compelling Harmon to appear and show cause for his refusal.

GREAT TUNNEL IS PROJECTED.

St. Louis and East St. Louis to Be Connected by Bore.

St. Louis, Mo., July 8.—Incorporation papers have been received by the organizers of the Illinois and Missouri Tunnel Company, formed for the purpose of excavating under the Mississippi river between St. Louis and East St. Louis, Ill., for the handling of traffic. The capital stock will be $100,000 and the incorporators are Edward L. Thomas, George K. Thomas and John T. Taylor. George K. Thomas, who is county clerk of St. Clair county, Illinois, said that it is proposed to build a tubular steel tunnel fifty feet below the river bed and about a mile in length. He said work would probably begin within a year and it will require a year's time to complete it.

NEW YORK LETTER ON THE MARKETS

What Grain is Selling for and Conditions That Exist in the East.

New York, July 7.—The market has been very firm and prices for the week are about 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents a bushel higher, the extreme gains being on the late months. This means that the big short interest which accumulated in September, following the winding up of May contracts, has become uneasy over reports of damage to the new crop, and has been doing a good deal of covering, while July has been advanced in a lesser measure owing to the smaller short interest. By the strength of the cash position, and rains in harvesting sections delaying the new crop movement. Contributing to the revolutionary character of the market is the fact that the press dispatches from Russia, which, as everyone knows, is one of the most important producers of wheat, and whose exports for the last six weeks have, in fact, supplied 40 per cent of the grain taken by importing countries. Should anything occur to cause even a temporary stoppage of Russian shipments, consuming countries, in self-protection and as a precautionary measure, would probably enter the American markets.

There have been rains in the Northwest as well as in the Southwest, and reports of rust are coming in quite freely. We think that the outlook for spring wheat remains about the average, however. The monthly report of the government next week will probably show less deterioration than is expected at the present time by some of the recent buyers, but for all that the situation is not one encouraging to the short seller, except as frequent opportunities will undoubtedly present themselves for moderate turns.

There is still, it should be remembered, plenty of time for crop damage in the Northwest, and the crop is not out of danger until it is harvested. Thrashing returns from the Southwest are none too good. There is the uncertainty over the Russian situation, and yesterday we heard rather unsettling news with regard to Sweden and Norway, the former country having voted that a war fund be placed at the disposal of the government. At any rate, it seems to us that in spite of the high range of prices now obtaining, wheat might be safely purchased on all sharp breaks.

Corn has been somewhat irregular. Very heavy receipts at Chicago, however, seem very little to disturb the longs in that market, and while new crop news has been fairly good, supplies available are moderate, and there is the growing season, and its possibilities of damage still before us. For the week, prices are about 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher, and as the close on Saturday, September corn in Chicago was selling at 55 cents. The price ought to be high enough, but the corn acreage in the South was undoubtedly reduced by wet weather interfering with planting until too late in the spring, exports continue fairly liberal for the season, and, on the whole, with wheat displaying its present strength, we would rather buy for a turn on sharp breaks than sell short. Ultimate results will depend, of course, on the progress of the new crop, the first official report as to which will be published on Monday of next week. Oats have shared in the general strength, and are now about 1 to 2 1/2 cents higher. The advance has been due to the covering of the large short interest which was built up on the excellent prospect for the new crop toward the close of May and early in June. There seems no reason for anxiety with reference to the crop, as few complaints are coming in at the present time, and it seems to us that September oats, above 31 cents in Chicago, are bringing quite all they are worth. We should, consequently, view a further advance as affording an opportunity for sales.

Provisions.

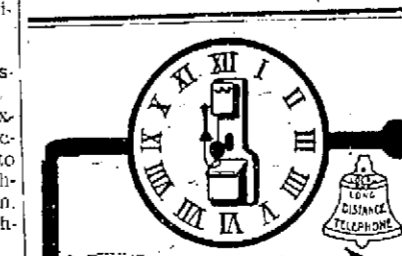

Provisions have ruled a little firmer on the stronger live hog situation and the strength in coarse grains. The market continues quiet, attracting little speculation for the time being, and there has been no weak long account formed to menace fresh purchases. We should buy them on each reaction, particularly as packers recently have shown a disposition to favor the market by supporting on weak spots.

WOULD KEEP OUT THE COOLIES

Secretary Taft Addresses Big Crowd at California University.

San Francisco, Cal., July 8.—Secretary Taft spoke to a vast concourse at the University of California upon a stand improvised under the branches of a gigantic oak. He dwelt upon the Chinese exclusion matter, and at considerable length explained his views in that matter. "Keep out the coolies," let in the merchants and students," said Secretary Taft in effect, declaring that by thus doing this country would not hurt itself and also would refrain from offending the empire of China.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

In examining the salary list of the Equitable Life Insurance company recently, the discovery was made that a prominent attorney was retained at an annual salary of $20,000, while another man of less prominence received a $5,000 salary.

These men never performed any services for the company and were simply pensioners on the pay roll. Another old employee, whose salary was $20,000, had been an invalid for two years, but his pay was continued at $1,000 per month.

These salaries, as well as many other items equally extravagant, were paid, not from the reserve funds of the company, but from the surplus, which belonged to the policy holders and while the percentage, divided among 600,000 men, was small, yet the principle involved is vital, as it has to do with common honesty.

The legislature of Wisconsin did a wise thing when it passed a law requiring all life insurance companies to return the policy holders' surplus at least once in five years. If congress would pass a similar law it would be appreciated, and results would stimulate honesty on the part of men who have to do with the largest trust fund in the country.

It is a sad comment on the morality of the age, that men in responsible positions need protection against themselves, and yet the developments of the past few months indicate that they do.

The "Equitable" is not the only company which has been reckless in expenditure, and life insurance is not the only business that will bear investigation.

Bank failures have been more frequent during the past few months than at any period for the past half dozen years, and this in spite of the fact that money was never more plenty or times more prosperous.

As the history of these failures comes to light, the fact develops that bad management, which in many cases means a polite term for dishonesty, is the cause. Men have been reckless in handling trust funds, and failures resulted.

The era of wild speculation has passed, in a measure, but it is succeeded by an era of extravagance and recklessness, more demoralizing. Liberty has been transformed to license and the standard of morality suffers in consequence.

It is easy to censure men in responsible positions, and when questionable methods are exposed criticism is fast and furious. The fact is too often overlooked, that the test of character is in the opportunity and that many people pass as honest, at face value, because they have never been tested.

The unit of the business world, as well as of society, is the individual and some one has said recently that every man has his weakness, and that the market is crowded with people who can be bought at a price.

The men who are reckless with other people's money are not always called dishonest, but they are, and the price is simply the opportunity to display their weakness.

There are plenty of people who would be shocked if accused of stealing a dollar, who consider it perfectly legitimate to beat a corporation at every corner.

A conductor said, the other day, in speaking of the new anti-pass law: "Yes, it comes a little hard on men who have been riding on my train for years with a pass, and many of them try to work the old acquaintance dodge, but it don't go."

There recently appeared in one of the magazines an article on the "Circus Graft," written by an old attaché, who had been in the show business all his life.

He said to a friend in an Ohio town, "Go stand by the ticket taker and count the number of people who try to get their children in at half price."

The rules admitted children under six years at 25 cents. The first family that came along had a girl of 9 and a boy of 12. The father presented three full and one half fare tickets. The man at the entrance said:

"How old are you little girl?" The child looked confused and finally said: "Six last May." The boy laughed and said: "Oh, Mary, you know better, you were nine," and the farmer paid his extra quarter.

Presently a man came along lugging a boy in his arms who was nearly as large as the old man himself.

He presented a full and half fare ticket, when the man at the door said, "Stand the lad down on the ground." When he loomed up to nearly the height of his father.

And so it went on for an hour when the list showed that 100 good honest parents had tried to beat the circus. His friend beckoned to him over by the ticket wagon and giving the ticket seller a wink, said, "Stand here for a minute and keep your eyes open."

A man passed up $5 and called for two tickets. He was purposely short changed a dollar, but did not discover the mistake until he passed into the tent.

Presently he returned very much incensed and demanded his dollar. The ticket seller good naturedly handed him two crisp one dollar bills so nicely placed together that they resembled one.

A few minutes later he was bragging to a friend how he got the best of that "feller" on the outside, when the "feller" put in an appearance, and calling the man aside said to him, "Produce that dollar and do it quick. You may be honest around home but you don't average up at the circus."

The tendency of the age is along the line of petty dishonesty, and it was never more prevalent in this country than it is today. The industrial world, as well as the world of finance, is full of it.

The rivalry which exists in the circles of organized labor, is not for individual advancement, but to see how little can be accomplished in a given number of hours.

The success of the employer is a secondary consideration, and the advancement of the individual workman is entirely ignored. This is a species of dishonesty which results in disaster at both ends of the line, and it will never be abolished until intelligence takes the place of prejudice in the ranks of organized labor.

The doctrine of socialism, in various forms, which is just now being disseminated throughout the land, is dangerous, because it incites to dishonesty. The equal distribution of property means a dishonest distribution, for it is simply another plan to get something for nothing and the world certainly needs no encouragement along this line.

The men who advocate this doctrine may be honest in their belief, but if so they are more dangerous on this account.

Many of the so-called reforms advocated so zealously by writers and speakers, are so impractical that their savor of dishonesty, and if adopted to any large extent, disastrous results will follow.

The 18 railroads doing business in Missouri, were recently obliged to join in a petition seeking to restrain the enforcement of reform railroad laws in that state.

The laws enforced meant the confiscation of property and this would mean a shadow of dishonor upon the people of the state.

Wisconsin, under a reform administration, is likely to have a similar experience. The Milwaukee organ recently indulged in a threat by claiming that if the railroads declined to grant the favors of special rates, so long enjoyed, that the new rate commission would assume control and reduce all passenger rates to two cents a mile or less. That may be good reform advice, but it smacks of dishonesty.

What the world needs more than it needs radical reform, is a return to the days of old fashioned common honesty. The rights of property are just as sacred as the rights of the individual and they should be so regarded.

PRESS COMMENT.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: People who say that cotton is again king under size the spots. Cotton is now ace.

Chicago Tribune: The small boy survivors of the glorious fourth are ready now for the deadly green apple.

El Paso Herald: Poland would get more sympathy and deserve it better if she were doing her struggling under any flag but the red.

Sheboygan Journal: The Fourth of July was celebrated enthusiastically on the isthmus of Panama. There was a long parade of yellow fever germs.

Rockford Register-Gazette: After all, when you want to be sure of reaching your destination, hitch up the old horse and leave the automobile in the barn.

Exchange: The year 1905 will be notable for having 53 Sundays. The year began on Sunday and will end on Sunday. Someone has said that this will not occur again for 110 years.

Detroit Evening News: That low chuckling sound, whenever Panama troubles are mentioned, is supposed to come from the directors' rooms of the Pacific railways.

Buffalo Evening Times: What have the advocates of peace to say about this? The Krupp factory in Germany has orders for 300 big guns a month for the next two years.

Milwaukee Free Press: Chicago's new directory gives indications of a population of 2,272,700. We trust that the estimate is half a million too high. There is such a thing as too much of a bad thing.

Milwaukee News: It is very fortunate for the memory of our departed sawlogs statesmen that the custom of grand juries investigating United States senators was not established when the pine lands were moving.

Racine Journal: All Poland seems to be alive with red hot revolt. Many men of middle age yet can recall the times when one of the current news items was that it was all quiet in Warsaw. The gallant Poles will do better this time.

Madison Journal: Janesville drew large numbers to see the Fourth of July parade. It was a mile long and 150 wagons and 500 people took part in it. A road roller with forty out-riders in playful imitation of the Lady Curzon pageant was one of the events.

Milwaukee Sentinel: There is a disposition to moralize on the fact that the son of the author of the "Scarlet Letter" is writing physical culture articles for a yellow journal. Still, if it comes to "mere lucre," the chances are that Hearst pays Julian much more than the public paid Nathaniel.

Menasha Record: This weather reminds us of the old song in The Pirates of Penzance:

How beautifully blue the sky,
They say we'll have a warm July,
Tomorrow it may pour again—
They say the country needs some rain.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: La Crosse is disturbed over the discovery that the state census of that city shows a smaller population than it had five years ago, when the government census was taken. It would seem as if a good town like La Crosse might be able to hold its own instead of striking a tobacco. Someone down there ought to move a reconsideration.

Portage Democrat: It is stated that Dist. Atty. McGovern of Milwaukee will be a candidate for governor in 1906. By the way he has been going after the graters in Milwaukee, county the mere mention of his candidacy ought to make the fellows down around the capitol begin to get gray headed. If McGovern is elected, it is feared that the new civil service commission will have something to do.

Oshkosh Northwestern: One of the New York papers has been claiming a degree of rare honesty on the part of the people of that city, by pointing to the fact that packages of books are often left for hours on top of the mail boxes there without any one disturbing them. As a matter of fact, however, this may not be due so much to a trait of honesty as to a general lack of interest in literature in the great metropolis.

Madison Democrat: Huh! There are La Follettes and La Follettes. Thus William A. La Follette is the fruit king of Snake river in Washington, and has a little cherry orchard which has this year produced about 10,000 boxes of this fruit, which he has shipped as far east as New York. As these cherries will average him about 50 cents per box net, at the orchard, his cherry crop—which is only one of many other fruits—will net him $5,000. Last year he shipped $6 full carloads of fruit. He is now employing 50 men and 30 girls, although the main fruit season has not yet opened and is shaking down more real, paying fruit than the fellow with the best persimmon tree in the whole political orchard.

Green Bay Gazette: From Janesville to Shawano by electric car is the latest plan of railway building proposed to Wisconsin. The plan is a good one and if carried through, is destined to cut off another slice of fine territory that Green Bay has considered its own for many a year but was simply too slow or too indolent to reach out and take in. The probability is that the Janesville line will not be built at once but it is very liable to come in time if Green Bay does not wake up and take notice of things. Wisconsin is passing through an era of growth and development. Improvements and building is going on in every direction. Farm land is being opened up, hamlets are springing up in every direction while the maps of the state are being lined with new railroads being built or surveyed. In a few years this preliminary work of great growth will have been made and the plans outlined which will make the future large cities of the state. The city that will be up and doing now is the one that will be in the lead a few years from now.

HICKS FORETELLS A
SERIES OF STORMSWeather Gentleman is Not at All
Pleasant with His Weather Predictions.

The weather bill for July as outlined by Rev. I. Hicks had us enter the month in the regular storm period, central on the 2d and extending to the 5th. A wave of extreme summer weather will reach a crisis and pass entirely across the country. In a general way, sections which were having an excess of rains and storms the latter part of June, may expect much the same state of things at the July storm periods; while sections which were experiencing dry, hot weather may reasonably count on a marked degree of hot and drouthy weather. At the reactionary storm period central on the 7th, 8th and 9th, there is great probability that we will enter upon a period of prolonged disturbance. This is indicated by the extended Vulcan brace, blended with those of Mercury and Mars in the storm diagram. After the storms on the 7th, 8th and 9th, change to cooler, fair weather may result, but the chances are good that continued cloudy and threatening conditions will prevail until we enter upon the regular Vulcan storm period which is central on the 14th. On and touching the 20th, 21st and 22d reactionary storm forces will again make themselves felt, causing very high temperature, falling barometer and return of threatening weather and storms. The Vulcan storm period, central on the 25th, covers the 23d to the 27th. The temperature will rise to another climax of warmth during the first days of this period, the barometer will fall at the same time, all culminating in threatening storms and guests on and touching the 25th, 26th and 27th. Many of these July periods will bring violent, local hailstorms to many sections in the middle to northern states. July will come to its close with an excessively high temperature or a marked warm wave spreading from the western to eastern parts of the country. The second new moon for the month falls on the 31st, being within a few days only of the center of the Venus disturbance. The periods in July in which seismic and earthquake disturbances were more likely to transpire from the 1st to the 4th, from the 16th to the 18th and on and touching the 31st.

OSTEOPATHIC NOTES

The Basis of Osteopathy, Founded Upon Principles That May Not Be Denied, and More Widely Applicable Than Other Systems.

Edited by Dr. H. B. Bell of Bell & Settle, Osteopaths, 405 Jackson Block.

Osteopathy is often criticised for presuming to be a system for the treatment of all ailments of the human body. It is not a cure-all, but the facts already established by anatomists, physiologists, and pathologists, justify the claim that it is wider in its application than any other system. The facts, briefly stated, are these:

(1) Each and every part of the body has its proper place, form, structure and function, and all are so combined as to form a perfectly working machine capable of self-regulation and self-repair.

(2) Each part of the body is provided with nutrition, carried to it in the circulating fluids; and all waste, except from surfaces, is carried away from each part by the same means.

(3) Every part of the body is supplied with nerves which control all its functions, such as motion, sensation, circulation of blood, growth of tissues, secretions, and heat generation and regulation. Impairment or destruction of any of these nerves results in the disturbed or destroyed function of the part supplied by them.

(4) Every part of the body will do its duty if it has a chance. That is what it is for, and it is a contradiction of thought to say that it will not. This is an axiom, the denial of which involves the denial of both health and disease; it would even mean the denial of the existence of the human body as known to science.

The means by which the osteopathic effects are simple. He goes directly to the cause of the trouble, removes it, and thus gets rid of the obstacle to health by setting free all the forces of the body involved in combating disease and maintaining health. If there is a part of the body diseased without cause, or that is not dependent upon the free circulation of blood and lymph for its nutrition, or that is not maintained in structure and in function by its nerve supply, that part is not responsive to osteopathic treatment. As germs do not destroy healthy tissue and as good blood flowing naturally is the greatest antiseptic known for internal conditions, Osteopathy is effective in treating all so-called germ diseases. Preventive medicine is the cry of the profession today. As the first cause of disease must exist before the disease itself becomes apparent, Osteopaths are especially qualified to aid humanity along this line. In doing so there is no danger to the healthy parts as in the taking of drugs.

DRAGGING

down pains are a symptom of the most serious trouble which can attack a woman, viz: falling of the womb. With this, generally, come irregular, painful, scanty or profuse periods, wasteful, weakening drains, dreadful backache, headache, nervousness, dizziness, irritability, tired feeling, inability to walk, loss of appetite, color and beauty. The cure is that marvelous, curative extract, or natural wine, of herbs, which exerts such a wonderful, strengthening influence on all female organs. Cardui relieves pain, regulates the menses, stops drains and stimulates the womb muscles to pull the womb up into place.

WINE OF CARDUI

It is a sure and permanent cure for all female complaints.

WRITE US A LETTER
Put aside all timidity and write us freely and frankly, in strictest confidence, telling us all your symptoms and troubles. We will send free advice (in plain, sealed envelope), how to cure them. Address: Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

"I SUFFERED AWFUL PAIN,
In my womb and ovaries," writes Mrs. Naomi Baker, of Webster Groves, Mo., "also in my right and left sides, and my menses were very painful and irregular. Since taking Cardui, I feel like a new woman, and do not suffer as I did. It is the best medicine I ever had in my house."

Platteville Mining Stock For Sale.

I offer for sale 4000 shares of the Hibernia Lead & Zinc Co. mine at Platteville, Wis. This stock is being placed on the market and sold for the purpose of equipping the mine. The Hibernia is one of the leading mines in that district; they have heavy ore and lots of it. Its success is assured.

This mine will be fully equipped and in operation by January 1st. Ore is taken out daily. This stock needs no comment, but sells on its merits. The capitalization of this mine is 28,000 shares; at this low capitalization it will pay large dividends per share.

This stock will be on the market for thirty days; anyone wishing to purchase has an opportunity.

PLAN ANNUAL PICNIC FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Local Post Prepares for Their Annual Gathering on the Banks of the Rock.

The annual gathering in picnic of the Grand Army of the Republic in this vicinity, which was inaugurated three years ago on the grounds at Ho-No-Ne-Gah park, and made memorable by song, speeches, music, the tramp and parade of soldier men of the war of '61, will again be made the scene of a very like pleasant gathering on Thursday, 20th inst. Hon. Philip Cheek, the king of G. A. R. veterans, the light and life in camp elsewhere, will be there and will be the principal speaker. Grand Army boys never let an occasion pass which sighted on Phil. Col. Lawlor of Rockford, who is very popular and widely known in Grand Army and business circles, will be president of the day. Col. Lawlor is the personage of the lamented Logan. The program for the occasion will be arranged on the grounds by the president—the exigencies of the occasion will be the basis of the exercises. The lobster quartette of Rockford will be in evidence. The committees for the picnic arrangements are Messrs. Andrews, Abbott, and Norton for the Rockford Post; Messrs. Howe and Moseley for the Beloit Post; Messrs. Bear, Harlow and Kimberley for the Janesville Post. The gathering will be in every sense a basket picnic. It will not be exclusive in any way. The G. A. R. and soldiers and friends with their families will receive the glad hand of welcome. Refreshments can be obtained by all who wish. Ho-No-Ne-Gah is a beauty spot. The native sod has never been disturbed by the hands of the husbandmen, save in a few places where may still be seen the Indian corn hills, showing the crude efforts of the Winnebagoes to raise corn here 50 years ago. It is situated on Rock river, four miles south of Beloit and twelve miles north of Rockford and is reached by the Beloit, Janesville and Rockford inter-urban railroad, a neat station having been established at the outer post gate. Excursion rates on steam and electric lines.

MYERS THEATRE TO OPEN ON JULY 20

And on September 5, Gus Cohan Will Present Great Musical Comedy "Little Johnny Jones."

Word has been received from Manager Peter L. Myers of the Myers theatre who has been enjoying a rest at Kenosha that he is much improved in health and spirits. This will be good news to his many friends in Janesville. Mr. Myers says that the preliminary season at the theatre will open on July 20 and the regular season on September 6, when George M. Cohan and his company will present "Little Johnny Jones," the big musical hit that is now enjoying a phenomenal run in Chicago and has been pronounced by James O'Donnell Bennett and other theatrical critics to be the best musical comedy produced in years. Mr. Myers is well pleased with his bookings thus far and is confident that the list of high class attractions will surpass that of any previous year.

"KID" AMMERMAN OF DAVENPORT WANTS TO SCRAP ART FRANCIS OF JANESVILLE

Writing from "Brick Manor's Pavilion and Summer Garden" in Davenport, Iowa, Frank ("Kid") Ammerman wishes to challenge Art Francis of this city, who, he says, he has heard called himself a fighter, to a six-round bout for a decision for one hundred dollars a side, bet, or anything up to five hundred. He will fight in either Davenport or Janesville and he also allows Francis to decide the disposal of the "gait" receipts, splitting 60 and 40 or 75 and 25 or winner take all. The weight is to be from 120 to 135 pounds.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Assault And Battery: James Quinn of Beloit who is held in the county jail on the charge of assaulting Frank Freeman of that city with intent to do great bodily injury, has waived examination and the time of his trial will be set on Monday. Some Good "Goats": Janesville enthusiasts who took in the boxing events at Beloit last evening were well pleased with the entertainment. Scliff and Williams, two Chicago pugilists, were in the ring ten rounds. Picnic On Tuesday: Some one hundred and fifty children of St. Patrick's church will enjoy a picnic at Yost's park on Tuesday. Small Fire Damage: By a call from alarm box number 261 this afternoon shortly before two o'clock the fire department was called to a residence in the second ward in the vicinity of the Hanson furniture factory, where flames had broken out as a result of a defective chimney flue. The loss was nominal. Maybe you want a want ad.

ROCKFORD CUCUMBER SEED IS ON TRIAL

$15,000 Lawsuit in Chicago Results From Its Failure to Grow Right Kind of Pickles.

In October, 1903, P. Hohenadel, Jr. of this city purchased of H. W. Buckbee, proprietor of the Buckbee Seed Co. of Rockford and owner of the Forest City seed farm and greenhouses, two consignments of cucumber seed, aggregating 3,500 pounds and sufficient to plant about 2,500 acres. This seed is said to have been represented and warranted to be of the variety known as Chicago Pickling Cucumber and relying on the guarantee the P. Hohenadel, Jr. Co. sold a portion of the consignment to Philip A. Marsh of Chicago. The latter in turn disposed of the seed to various growers, among them the wholesale pickle and grocery firm of F. H. Sweet & Co. of Chicago who bought 400 pounds by sample. Sweet & Co. claim to have planted the seed and to have grown 26,000 bushels of cucumbers there from which were not Chicago Pickling but a much inferior variety. By reason of this unhappy outcome the Sweet's claim to have sustained a loss amounting to $15,000 and have brought action against Philip A. Marsh to recover the same. This action is to be tried on July 12 before Judge Honore of the Cook county circuit court and Pierce & Fisher of Janesville, attorneys for P. Hohenadel & Co., will appear for Philip A. Marsh. They are in Rockford today taking the testimony of H. W. Buckbee, the seed dealer. All parties claim damages from the seed, totaling about $75,000.

gasoline fumes caused the death of the two. Mr. Bertness is employed as a lineman by the Orfordville Telephone company. His little ten-year-old sister lives with him and it is thought that his wife and sister went to the cellar to secure some gasoline from a barrel located there and that they were overcome by the fumes which came from a leak in the barrel, and were suffocated before being able to reach the stairs. Mrs. Bertness was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and her sad death has shocked the village of Orfordville. It was nearly seven-thirty when Mr. Bertness arrived home and he found no one there. Thinking they had gone to his wife's parents he proceeded to go down cellar to find something to eat. He had barely opened the door when he caught sight of his wife lying on the cellar floor. Quickly summoning a neighbor, T. L. Barnum, they prepared to go into the cellar with a lighted candle. Almost immediately the gas in the cellar ignited and the flames shot several feet. Others were summoned and Dr. Keithley who went

ARREST CARRIER ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Willis C. Collins of Edgerton Rural Routes, Arrested by the Postal Authorities.

Willis C. Collins, a rural mail carrier traveling from the Edgerton post-office, has been arrested by a deputy United States marshal from Madison charged with the serious offense of tampering with the mails. It appears that for some months past complaints have been made relative to property being missed by the patrons of the Edgerton postoffice and a careful watch was placed which resulted in the arrest of Collins last Thursday morning just as he was to leave for his route with a load of mail. The fact of his arrest was kept a secret until Friday evening, when it was learned that several serious charges had been lodged against him. It is alleged that forger, rifling the mails and embezzlement are some of the complaints that have been made. Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Collins and is married and twenty-seven years of age. He was very popular in Edgerton, where he had spent most of his life. In 1898 he moved to Montana, but returned to Edgerton three years ago with his wife. His arrest has caused considerable sensation at Edgerton and there is much conjecture as to how serious the charges really are.

TERRIBLY BEATEN BY UNKNOWN MEN

Fred Kenyon Was Attacked Near Cemetery Monday Night—Rescued by Man Named Malbon.

Fred Kenyon, a man employed in the Barb Wire works, received terrible treatment at the hands of assailants near the Oak Hill cemetery about ten o'clock Monday evening and before a man by the name of Malbon interferred, his face and body had been pounded numerously. When seen today Mr. Kenyon did not care to discuss the matter in detail. He said that he was with his sister-in-law and that they had just come from the cemetery when four men jumped on him. He had no idea who they were at the time but he loved that they had evil intentions regarding the young woman. He has been making a quiet investigation in the hopes of establishing the identity of the men.

Fielders Should Not Be Captains

So Says President Hart of Chicago Nationals, and He Gives Good Reasons—They Are Too Far Away From the Umpire.

Should the position of field captain of a baseball team be restricted to infielders, or is the present custom of appointing either an infielder or an outfielder preferable?

"It is my firm conviction that no outfielder should ever be appointed manager or field captain of a ball club,"

CAPTAIN-MANAGER JOE KELLEY OF CINCINNATI.

President Hart of the Chicago Nationals, inventor of the "foul strike" rule, recently remarked: "The disadvantages under which he labors are obvious. In the first place, if the pitcher goes wrong, loses control or anything of that kind, he has to delay the game greatly to come in and talk it over or to substitute another box artist. Besides that, he is not in the game as much as the infielder, nor is he in a position to keep up the spirits of his men to the extent he would be if he played an infield position. "While all players are cautioned constantly about questioning a decision of an umpire, whenever they think he makes a mistake it is pretty hard for them not to stop proceedings long enough to argue a little bit. Now, if the manager, or captain is an outfielder, to argue with the umpire he must stop everything while he runs in from the outfield. The umpire's orders are explicit. When a player runs in from his position at him, tending to 'show up' the official to the crowd, then send him to the bench without question. An infielder can walk about the diamond, not too close to the umpire, apparently talking to some of his men, and at the same time get away with a lot of things talked at the arbitrator; but, as soon as a man has to about everything down and come running in, then he's usually put out of the game by the umpire. "That is primarily my reason for believing that no outfielder should ever be elected manager or field captain of a ball club." Here is a list of the playing managers in the two leagues and the positions they play: American League—Fielders: Jones, White Sox, center field; Lajoie, Cleveland, second base; Stahl, Washington, first base; Griffith, New York, pitcher; Collins, Boston, third base. National League—Burke, St. Louis, third base; Kelly, Cincinnati, first base and the outfield; Clarke, Pittsburgh, left field; Tenney, Boston, first base.

III-Timed Wit. "Did he leave you anything when he died?" "Oh, yes, he did," I questioned her. "What was it?" "He left me an orphan."

FASHION NOTES

RICH LACES THE VOGUE

It is hardly possible to emphasize the success of lace as a trimming, yet there is one probable new thought that might be considered in using it; or, new may not be just the exact term to use, for the idea is the result of evolution rather than creation. The fact is, however, that lace can be used to better advantage in the making of color schemes than the average woman stops to consider. Frequently the richness of a gown is controlled by the manner in which the lace trimmings upon it are combined. Inexpensive ornaments, artistically shaded, can be made to appear positively costly. Take, for example, medallions cut from pure white St. Gall lace bought by the yard and surrounded with tiny ruffles of cream Valenciennes lace set upon a background of black, blue or any dark color. For the woman who must economize, there is no better plan of buying lace than by the yard, for most of the fashionable trimmings have patterns so distinct that they can easily be cut apart and used as appliques. Oftentimes in this way it is possible to eke out quite an elaborate decorative scheme from a yard of lace.

This idea is embodied in a simple but effective afternoon frock of marine blue, silk crepe de Chine. The bodice has a yoke formed of cut-out patterns of white lace, which is quite heavy, and the medallions are finished with tiny ruffles of yellow Valenciennes lace, the ruffles being caught down at irregular intervals with spots of pale blue silk French knots. At the front and over the shoulders, the yoke meanders into scallops and break an otherwise round outline.

The puffed sleeves are finished with a cuff formed of medallions sewn together with blue silk threads over a foundation of cream-white satin. The skirt is, perfectly plain and, white light around the waistline and hips, it falls from the latter point in sharp, topped folds. The hem is four inches deep, and four strips of blue taffeta, varying from a quarter to three-quarters of an inch in width is the only trimming. The strips are placed on each a quarter of an inch apart, the lowest and widest row being two inches from the edge of the skirt.

Cream lace either in insertions, edgings or medallions add to the richness of delicate colors and this effect can be heightened by additions of white ruffles, etc. This does not mean that the pure white trimmings are not a la mode, but as one smart gownier expresses it, one always gets richer effects by using white trimmings and limited supplemental fabrics of pastel or per shades. All of the various skirt innovations are suggestive of pinnacles, despite the fact that preceding models have met with indifference or disapproval at the hands of "woman-kind." Some of the great couturiers, however, are insistent in exploiting the tentative hip draperies, and a few fashionable women have accepted the idea.

If anything skirts are growing wider, the design of twenty-seven gored being considered exceptionally smart. A chie model is laid in very full box plaits, small at the waist and flaring into very wide plaits at the foot of the long skirt. Gradually the train of skirt is encroaching upon the territory of the walking model and it is safe to predict that by the time the winter season comes the trained skirt will have regained much of the vogue it lost during the last year.

Skirts of all materials are effectively trimmed with lace of all widths and descriptions. Corded puffs, usually about two or three inches wide, form a less expensive decoration than lace, and the puffs are set around the bottom of the skirt about its own width from the edge.

Red taffeta is used to make smart separate skirts with which are worn delightful lingerie blouses of handkerchief linen and broderie Anglaise. It is not a screaming tone, yet bright enough to need no announcement of its coming. In the soft chiffon taffetas and radium silks, however, the tint—It is called Muscovite—is charming.

KAISER WILHELM

looms up today as the dominant figure in world politics—a truly commanding personality. And like Bismarck, his famous tutor, he delights to quaff, when among friends, the fine old malt brews of the German Fatherland.

GUND'S Peerless BEER

is a fine American beer of Commanding Superiority brewed by the "Gund Natural Process" from Nature's choicest barley-malt and hops, and water flowing crystal from granite rocks. It is the only beer brewed on "this Side" that would make the Kaiser's eyes sparkle with pleasure, because its quality would satisfy his discriminating and highly educated taste. It is marvelously rich, ripe and pure—a right royal beverage—winning the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition—as a triumphant achievement in the art of brewing. "PEERLESS" when first brewed in a little log house fifty years ago—it is "PEERLESS" still.

Sold at all first-class bars and cafes. Ask for it if you want something exceptionally good—or order a trial case sent today to your home. It has never been known to cause biliousness because it is aged for months and bottled only at the brewery. Distinguished from all other beers by its fine flavor and exquisite bouquet.

SUMMER INSTITUTE TRAINING REQUIRED

All Who Plan to Teach in Country Schools Must Have That Qualification or Equivalent.

Teachers in the country schools of Rock county are required to each summer take two weeks of institute training or an equivalent, and notice of this has been sent out by Superintendents Antisdal and Hemingway to all who, it is known, are planning to enter the work of instructing children during the coming year. The annual joint institute will be held in the Janesville high school building from July 17 to the 28 and the circular sent out says in part as follows:

Every teacher who expects to teach in Rock county next year is expected to attend unless excused by her superintendent before the session begins. Attendance at institute of the attendance at every exercise of the institute. This applies to those who expect to teach only a part of the year. Following the custom of many other superintendents, five standings will be refilled for those who attend the institute. Such persons will be recommended for schools in preference to others. Anyone who attends a summer school of five weeks or more will be excused from institute attendance upon application.

The minimum in all branches this fall will be 60 per cent and an average of 65 per cent for a third grade certificate. Wages have been higher this past year and undoubtedly will be still higher next year. The people and pupils are entitled to higher qualifications and better service from their teachers for this increased expenditure.

Every member of the institute is required by the state department to take library reading unless excused. In addition there will be classes formed in history, constitutions, agriculture, geography, arithmetic, algebra, American literature, primary, middle and upper readings, language, spelling, orthography, and school management. The examinations will follow immediately after the institute.

First District—Janesville, July 31, August 1, 2, Evansville, August 3, 4, 5. Second District—Milton Junction, Afton, Clinton. Both Districts—First and Second Grades, Janesville, October 27 and 28.

Fleeing Fame. Cyrus, the conqueror, thought for a little time that he was making a great thing out of this world. Yet before he came to his grave he wrote this pitiful epitaph for his monument: "I am Cyrus. I occupied the Persian empire. I was king over Asia. But the world in after years plowed up his sepulchre."

VERY ANNOYING.

This Hardly Expresses What Janesville People Say of It.

Any itchininess of the skin is annoying. Little danger in itching skin diseases. But they make you miserable. Doan's Liniment is a never-failing cure. For Piles, Eczema, all itching troubles.

Janesville citizens endorse it.

L. Lawrence of 468 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itchininess of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face, caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itchininess and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

DUN'S CHICAGO TRADE REPORT

Commercial Defaults Are Below Those of July, One Year Ago.

METAL CONSUMPTION GROWING

Output of Finished Iron and Steel Shows No Diminution, While Business Is Heavy in Wire, Plates and Structural Forms.

Chicago, July 8.—The Weekly review of Chicago trade, published by R. G. Dunn & Co., says:

"July settlements usually offer a fair reflex of business conditions and it is gratifying to find that on an increased volume of bank exchanges both the average cost of money and commercial defaults are lower than a year ago. Local interest and dividend payments were exceptionally large and financial activity broadened, but operations proceeded smoothly, funds continued in ample supply for ordinary needs and there was considerable new investment in securities."

"Broken weather interfered in the principle retail branches, yet dealings reached a large aggregate, due to improved holiday demand, and the depletion of merchandise stocks has been of satisfactory extent. Country advances indicate that retail sales enlarged and that this feature is steadily spreading to those sections where harvesting progresses and money becomes more abundant."

Consumption Is Heavy.

"Reorders in seasonal goods have held up well for both interior and city, testifying to heavy consumption. Wholesale lines report fair advance made in forward selections for fall delivery and there is sustained shipments for dry goods, summer clothing, footwear and food products. Warehouse exhibits now are being prepared for the approaching advance guard of visiting buyers and the outlook favors large transactions."

"Factory consumption of supplies reflects extending use of metals, and there is no reduction in the output of finished iron and steel, though weaker prices have halted the inquiry for furnace product. Rail commitments cover much tonnage and new business is heavy in wire, plates and structural forms."

Grain and Live Stock.

"Primary foodstuffs again furnished active dealings, especially in the leading cereals, which were subjected to conflicting reports as to the status of new crops. Flour, however, has shown no recovery in the general demand, and millers bought wheat only to satisfy absolute needs. The total movement of grain here, 8,211,228 bu., included receipts aggregating 5,040,161 bu., a gain of 44.8 per cent over those of corresponding week last year, but the shipments, 3,171,067 bu., were disappointingly under those of last week, and barely 1 per cent over those of a year ago. Receipts of live stock, 284,600 head, compared with 245,131 head a year ago.

"Failures reported in the Chicago district numbered 16, against 31 last week and 19 a year ago."

Why Man Is on Earth.

The bad object of all food faddism is to make food a weariness and a burden. Food is to be nasty, lest we eat too much of it. Food is to be chewed to extinction, so as to make a hard work of feeding. All of which is absurd nonsense and founded on the wholly foolish idea, which is more and more obnoxious civilization, that man is on earth to work. He is on earth to be glad; if he doesn't believe that he is mad.—Sydney Bulletin.

COTTON REPORTS CARRY SCANDAL

Faithless Employees Give Tips

STATISTICIAN LOSES HIS JOB

Secretary Wilson Dismisses Man
From Government Service As Result of Charges Filed On Behalf of Cotton Growers' Association.

Washington, July 8.—The Department of Agriculture has taken its place among the other departments of the government in which a scandalous condition of affairs, brought about through faithless employees, is an established fact. The scandal in Secretary Wilson's department consists of a big leak in the bureau of statistics in which figures relating to the staple crops of the country are compiled. The established fact is that brokers in New York have had advance information as to the figures that were to be published respecting the cotton crop.

Secretary Wilson granted an interview to Edwin S. Holmes, associate statistician, who was suspended from office on June 9 last, on account of the charges filed on June 2 by Richard Cheatham, secretary of the Southern Cotton Growers' association.

The charge of greater gravity was that information of the operations of the statistician's office got into the hands of Theodore Price, a New York broker, long enough to enable him and those associated with him to work the market, not only in New York, but other places where there is speculation in cotton.

Statistician in Disgrace.

After the interview Holmes announced to a friend that his connection with the government had ceased. The inference is that he was dismissed.

It is believed that the revelations made by the secret service agents, who have been investigating the matter for a month, will result in a reorganization of the bureau of statistics and the retirement or transfer of the chief statistician, John Hyde. The chief had started on a trip to Europe when the charge was made by Mr. Cheatham. The suspension of Holmes was sufficient to cause his recall from his vacation.

It is asserted that big cotton speculators in New York have actually procured the employment of men in the department, apparently for the purpose of getting possession of the confidential information.

Money Flows His Way.

Holmes and a former employee of the government who worked in the division of statistics, Moses Haas, are erecting a fine apartment house in this city. When Haas came here he was glad to get employment at any figure. He got out about three years ago on account of a prospective matrimonial venture with the daughter of a congressman from Tennessee. Since that time he has been amassing wealth rapidly.

Holmes told his friends that he had made his money in a mining venture. They had no information to the contrary. They have now, Haas and Holmes are regarded as rich men by their associates.

Secretary Wilson was simply astounded by the result of the investigation begun by his direction. He has heretofore always scoffed at the idea that there could be a leak in the bureau of statistics. The figures were never made up until the day of publication, and those who were entrusted with this task were segregated in a private room and could not hold any communication with the outside world until after the figures were given out.

Secret Reports for Brokers.

When the compilers went into that room they took with them reports from the state agents and from B. C. White, the general traveling agent, who is supposed to be the best man in the country on estimating the yield of cotton from merely looking at it as the plants grow in the field. These reports were to be used to correct the reports from the 50,000 township and county reporters. They were supposed to be kept in a safe and under seal. They were supposed to be kept there until the day for making up the figures. The chief fact developed by the secret service men is that they were not. They were opened and the facts contained in them were used to supply the cotton brokers.

Another material fact developed is that the estimates put out by the division of statistics were evidently doctored for the purpose of enabling the operators to create the sort of market they desired. In this way it is believed that fortune brokers have been the public out of millions of dollars.

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT IS THE GUEST OF HONOR

Taft's Philippine Party Sails From San Francisco Today—Junket Will Be Noted Social Event.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, July 8.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, accompanied by a distinguished company of guests in which are included statesmen, eligible young bachelors and society girls, sailed for the Philippine Islands today on the steamer Manchuria, by way of Honolulu, where they will stop for a little entertainment this week.

The purpose of the trip is the delegation of senators and representatives of congress an opportunity to visit all the principal points of interest in the Philippines. There are many eminent statesmen who stoutly contend that Uncle Sam was badly deceived when he became involved in the Philippines; nearly one-half of Secretary Taft's guests are members of congress who are anxious to gratify their individual curiosity even at the drain it will make upon their pocketbooks, for only the expense of the passage from San Francisco to the Philippines will be borne by the Philippine government.

Will Be Great Social Success.

From a social standpoint the trip promises to be a distinct success. The fact that Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the President, is the guest of honor was the magnet which led many social leaders in all parts of the country to make application to join the party. It is understood that more than two hundred society women, personally and through influential friends, requested to be included among the invited guests, but they were informed that the good ship Manchuria only afforded comfortable accommodations for a limited number was filled. The party will arrive at Honolulu about next Saturday and during the trip a visit will also be made to Japan, upon the special invitation of the Japanese government.

Honors for Miss Roosevelt

That Miss Alice Roosevelt will be paid homage which would be flattering to even a queen is evident by the preparations that have been made for her comfort and enjoyment on every side. She has the choicest apartment on board the Manchuria. Her stateroom is furnished with a brass bed, toilet table, desk and couch and further beautified with Turkish rugs and hangings of red silk. Adjoining is a private bath and boudoir. Miss Alice is accompanied on the trip by several intimate friends, including Miss Boardman, Miss McMillan and Miss Helen Fenton, all of whom are members of the exclusive set in Washington.

Young Bachelors Attracted

There are also several eligible young bachelors in the party, so that romantic situations are likely to develop. Among them are Congressman "Nick" Longworth, who has long been attentive to Miss Roosevelt; Stuyvesant Fisk, Jr., Mr. Scillman and Roger Wetmore, son of Senator Wetmore of Rhode Island, also Representative Foss of Illinois, the handsome young chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Miss Roosevelt's Personality

(From Ohio State Journal.)
There is a great joy in the very existence of Miss Alice Roosevelt. The fact that she is the President's daughter gives her great significance, and on this account she meets generous welcomes wherever she goes; but when the formal ceremonies of welcome are over, and one confronts the girl, the real found American girl, one quite forgets she is the President's daughter. He sees in her all the graces of an enthusiastic, happy, sensible womanhood. She takes her haps and mishaps as they come along, with that genial, good nature which is the habit of a noble life. She shakes your hand with a vim, and looks into your face with that sincere how-do-do expression which makes you feel that she would be happy to meet you again. There is no royal nonsense about her, no particularly high-grade humanity in her conceptions of herself. She is her father's daughter, with a strenuous sense of joy that lifts the shadows and makes humanity smile wherever she goes. May she have thousands of imitators.

Gen. Bliss' New Command

San Francisco, July 8.—Among the passengers going to the Philippines today in an official capacity as well as a guest of Secretary Taft was Gen. T. H. Bliss, who goes to assume command of the Department of Luzon to succeed Brigadier-General Gov. M. Randall, who has been ordered home.

GOOD HOG FEED.

What Pumpkins and Squash Will Do for the Swine—The Proper Way to Feed.

The prominent institute lecturer, Mr. Theodore Lewis, has the following to say regarding the use of pumpkins and squash for the feeding of hogs:

"I want to suggest a profitable investment of a little labor and still less cash. Take from a half to a full acre of corn field that lies nearest to the barn yard, that is likely to be well supplied with manure, and give it a liberal dressing of that material. Then plow it under as soon as possible, and stake off the plot so that its boundaries will be well known. When preparing the corn field be sure to give this particular piece a specially good harrowing. When marking the field for corn, probably from May 10 to 15, mark this plot also, one way, but plant no corn on it. When the field is harrowed to kill the sprouting weeds and grass, as it should be before and after the corn is up, do not neglect the unplanted portion.

"About May 25, if the season is ordinarily favorable, plant this plot to squash, but not the hard shell kind, or to pumpkins, or both. Plant eight feet apart each way, and put in plenty of seed, so as to give out worms or squash bugs their fill and have plants left. When the insects have departed thin the plants to four or five to the hill. If the insects did not do the thinning, each time the corn is cultivated go through the squash patch until the vines get too large to allow it. In this way the vines are not injured by cultivation of the corn.

"If the season is at all favorable there will be tons of squashes and pumpkins on the ground, and they can be got at without driving over a large field to gather them, and will avoid waiting for them until the corn is matured and cut up. This makes it possible to begin feeding them earlier, and so lengthens the feeding season of a kind of material that is very beneficial to hogs as they are changed from the pastures to the fattening pen for early market. And nothing better substitutes the succulence of the summer during the later feeding period than the 'fruits' named.

"After the feed of corn, the squash or pumpkin dessert should follow on the feeding floor. They should be cut a few times with a sharp spade, so the hogs can make good use of them. The quantity of feed must be regulated by the effect on the animals, and that can be most quickly discovered by watching the excrement. If too much is being fed the bowels will be too loose and the excrement will not be of a healthy color. These things will suggest a change in quantity of the succulent feed. With such feeding, however, wisely done, there will be no breaking down of hogs or other preventable ailments, but there will be a thrift and growth that will at once surprise and delight."

TWO RECEIVERS FOR C. J. DEVLIN

Judge Pollock at Topeka Selects Men to Handle Property Temporarily.

CREDITORS TO FURNISH FUNDS

Money Will Be Advanced to Carry on Mines in Southern Kansas That Supply Coal to Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Road.

Topeka, Kan., July 8.—Cyrus Leland of Troy, Kan., and J. E. Hurley, general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway system, have been appointed temporary receivers of the properties of C. J. Devlin.

A bond of $250,000 will be required. Mr. Hurley's appointment was made at the request of the Santa Fe Railway company through its attorneys. They will be in charge until the creditors elect trustees. Mr. Leland formerly was Republican national committeeman from Kansas.

Bank Gets $1,180,334.

"I named two men," said Judge Pollock, "because I felt that there was more work than one could do. I think the appointments will be generally satisfactory."

From a reliable source it was given out that the total value of the properties turned over by Mr. Devlin to the defunct First National bank is approximately $1,281,500, with an encumbrance of $101,266, leaving a clear value of $1,180,334. This is in Topeka real estate, southern Kansas coal fields, Illinois coal fields and bonds and stocks in corporations.

The same informant states that the total amount of deposits accepted after the bank knew its failing condition was $61,000.

Mines to Be Kept Running.

"The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway will not take part in the management of the coal mines which are involved in the failure of C. J. Devlin," said Clifford Histed, attorney for Devlin. "The creditors will advance money to carry on the mines and the payment of the miners' wages in the southern Kansas coal fields for a time."

"The Santa Fe is interested only in seeing that coal is furnished it as before. The sum of $40,000 will be advanced by the creditors. The Illinois miners have just been paid off and nothing will be due for two weeks to come. We hope with the appointment of a receiver that the mines will become successfully established again."

Home Health Club

By DAVID R. REEDER, Ph. D., M. D.
L. F. FORD, Ltd.

"If the many lectures which I receive daily are an indication of the interest in the Home Health club lectures, then it is plain that the desire for knowledge upon subjects of health and disease is great. I find also that many of my readers desire knowledge of a deeper nature than is usually given in newspaper articles. That is, they want the most profound, technical information regarding subjects which are supposed to interest only learned college professors and grave medical societies. I am glad because of this awakening of the people and trust the interest will continue until a practical working knowledge of home remedies and methods of overcoming sickness may be common property.

APPOXY.

The subject of apoplexy is one concerning which I have had many inquiries, also the question of circulation seems to interest many. It may seem curious that these two subjects should be the subject of inquiry, just at this period, from so many different parts of the country, more so, perhaps on account of the fact that the two are so intimately related.

As I have told you before, I do not believe that the heart is an organ of tremendous muscular power which alone pumps the blood throughout the system. The circulation of the blood is, in my opinion, even though the text books do not teach it, controlled by the nerves and gray matter. There is a rhythmic contraction and expansion of the veins and arteries causing a continuous vermicular motion throughout the entire circulatory system including the heart, the most important portion of that system.

If the circulation is not controlled by the nerves and gray matter, what causes the blood to leave the face during fright or anger; what causes it to rush to the face when an emotion of shame or confusion afflicts one? What causes the feet of the restless victim of insomnia to be cold as ice while his head is burning up?

Poor circulation means poor nerves, apoplexy means poor circulation and nerves interfered with, usually by pressure. The text book will tell you that "apoplexy is a disease produced by congestion or rupture of the blood-vessels of the brain, and causing a sudden arrest of sense and motion, the patient lying as if asleep, while breathing and the heart's action continues." The exciting causes are: Intemperance, mental emotions, blows on the head, intense study, wearing of tight articles of clothing, thereby obstructing circulation; prolonged stooping, the use of opiates, exposure to the rays of the sun, lifting heavy weights, straining, violent vomiting, baths at too high a temperature, wading in very cold water, the suppression of natural discharges, accidental loss of blood, etc., all of which proves my theory of the circulation.

Persons with a florid complexion, short neck and large abdomen and a tendency to rapidly accumulate flesh, have cause to fear apoplexy, especially if they live high and take little exercise. Indulgence in alcoholic liquors by such persons is highly dangerous, as the nerves are weakened. Excessive mental labor, sudden great excitement and continued exhaustive physical labor may bring on a stroke of apoplexy in anyone. Again there are peculiar organizations and weakened nerve force whose blood vessels seem liable to become brittle, and prone to burst readily. Even very thin persons and those who live most carefully may thus suffer from apoplexy.

While a stroke of apoplexy comes on with great suddenness, still there are certain premonitory symptoms usually manifested which should be recognized and heeded as warnings by those who are especially inclined to the disease, and should cause them to be careful in their habits. These warning symptoms are: Headache, dizziness, especially when stooping; blurred vision, throbbing sensations in the neck or head, ringing in the ears, flushing of the face, especially after eating or slight exertion, bleeding of the nose. No one of the symptoms alone would indicate apoplexy, but many of them together, occurring in persons predisposed to the disease, should give occasion for great concern.

A stroke of apoplexy may come on in one of three ways. First, the victim experiences a sudden pain, darting through the head; he then becomes extremely pale, sick and faint, and perhaps vomits freely; his memory rapidly leaves him and his countenance appears deathly and his eyes have a vacant stare. He sinks into a most profound stupor and dies. These cases are almost hopeless, for their little vitality to be aroused. Second, there may be a sudden paralysis upon one side of the body, loss of speech and apparent agony of mind. Such cases are sometimes slow in developing and full recovery from the paralysis is probable. Third, the victim usually falls as though struck and lies in a stupid sleep, having no power of speech or thought, the face is flushed, the teeth clenched, the veins of the neck large and distended, the breathing slow and heavy and snoring, and the pulse slow and full and its stroke hard or violent beneath the fingers; the cheeks are distended and often the breath passes through them with a puffing sound. The pupils of the eyes remain unchanged as light is brought near.

Apoplexy from the bursting of a blood vessel gives sudden and complete unconsciousness, and is frequently fatal, some patients dying in four or six hours, most living from three to nine days and a small number recovering with the exception of more or less paralysis. But no person after a stroke of apoplexy can be considered out of danger until ten days after the attack. A third attack, usually proves fatal, unless manifestly brought on by excessive eating.

The treatment for this disease usually depends upon the immediate cause of the attack. If from overeating, the distended stomach is pressing upon the large blood vessels and causing an excessive amount of blood to go to the brain. In such cases the patient must sit upright; to lie down would increase the pressure. Next the stomach must be unloaded at once—warm water with salt and mustard is most useful. The hands and feet will usually be found cold; bathe them in hot water containing mustard or ginger. Always loosen the clothing about the neck and body and allow abundance of fresh air.

When it is known that the attack is not caused by overeating, the patient may lie down with the head raised. Enforce quietude and bathe the extremities in hot water containing stimulation. The bowels must be moved—injections of warm water containing salt and ginger being excellent. Days may elapse before improvement is noticed. But the means of relief must be persisted in, and the patient sustained by frequent administrations of broths or other soft or liquid nourishing foods. If swallowing is too difficult sustenance by injections must be resorted to. Peeble heart action may be sustained by small doses of an infusion of golden seal and scullcap or cactus.

The rules to be observed by persons predisposed to apoplexy may be stated as follows: Avoid excessive labor, mental strain, anxiety and excitement. Eat plain food, and that very moderately; subsist mainly on fruits and vegetables. Leave all alcoholic liquors alone. Keep the bowels open, exercise moderately and keep a cheerful disposition—do not quarrel. Never lie down soon after eating, and don't retire at night with a full stomach. Avoid exercise before breakfast and immediately after meals. Avoid hard water, which often makes brittle the blood vessels in some persons; and do not indulge in foods or habits liable to produce fats. Use instead foods that increase the vitality and health of the nerves.

CLUB NOTES.

Minnesota.—Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind.—Dear Friend: We have a boy who has been sick for five or six months. The doctor here calls it Bright's disease. He swells up all over his body, but worse in the lower part of the body. I would be very thankful if you could give me some good method of treatment and the name of the sickness. He is 11 years old. Very truly yours, J. E.

Such a condition as Bright's disease should have very prompt and careful treatment. It arises from diseased kidneys, making itself manifest by degrease, the swelling being one of these. I would first advise a general constitutional remedy for building up the glands of his body, and particularly the kidneys, gradually restoring them to proper functional activity, and a specific form of herb medication which will act immediately upon the parts affected, and arrest the progress of the disease. For the former I do not know anything better than the vegetable remedy which I have often referred to and given the formula in these columns—compound gentian syrup. This is a glandular form of treatment, and would permanently build up his entire system. The specific treatment should supply to the wasting tissues of the kidneys, etc., the lacking elements necessary to their restoration. This is the form of treatment discovered by the old German, Dr. Schuessler, hence the tissue elements are called after him. They are usually in tablet form, and would be very beneficial for your son.

Wisconsin.—Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind.—Dear Doctor: I am a reader of this paper and would like to tell you of my trouble, may be you have a remedy to suggest.

I have pain in my left leg between the hip and the knee. It varies in degree, but seems to get worse all the time. It varies in location, but moves always between these two points. I have had it since last fall, but for the first few months was only slightly noticeable. The pain seems to be a drawing together kind, and is always worse in the morning at getting up, so bad that I can hardly move about. One doctor pronounced it muscular rheumatism and prescribed for it, but this and many other remedies were all of no avail. Please tell me what to do. Yours very truly, S. W.

From the description which you have given of your condition, I am inclined to think that you are troubled with sciatica. Now these pains many come from rectal trouble, and if you are troubled with constipation or piles or any kind of rectal trouble, then it will be necessary for you to overcome this condition before you will get much relief. If, however, it is caused by uric acid, in other words, rheumatism alone, then I would suggest that you use the Home Health club method of treatment for that condition.

All readers of this paper are at liberty to write for information on subjects pertaining to health. All communications should be addressed to Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind., and must contain name and address in full and at least four cents in postage.

"Russian Vegetarian Diet."

It has been said so often lately that the Japanese owe their strength largely to a vegetable diet that it is interesting to read in a traveler's account of a visit to Moscow in 1898 that the same thing was said then of their present enemies, the Russians. He attributes their being "of a very strong constitution, very tall and bulky," to the fact that "above one-half of the year being taken up with their fasts, the common people feed upon nothing else but cabbage and cucumber." Lest the total abstainer as well as the vegetarian should rejoice at this, though, we must add that our traveler also says: "It must be allowed that they promote the digestion by the brandy and leeks which, unquestionably, correct the vicious humors arising by such indigestible nourishments." So there is nothing new, even in the modern war of diets.—London Chronicle.

Angora Goat Clip.

What is thought to be a record clip of mohair from Angora goats has just been sold by a company which last year started a great ranch near Tacoma. The goats yielded from four to nine pounds of hair each, a total of 4,500 pounds.

An Aid to Appetite.

Old Inventory of Railroad.
An old inventory of the Mohawk & Hudson railroad, dated Jan. 1, 1833, gives the following as the total rolling stock of the road at that time: Three locomotives (the John Bull, the De Witt Clinton and the Experiment); three carriages, accommodating twelve passengers each; nine, accommodating nine each; two, accommodating six each, and three, accommodating eight each, a total capacity of 183.

Good Proof of Guilt.

When William M. Evans was a young man he defended in court a man named Edwards, who was charged with forgery. The trial was an interesting one, and Mr. Evans' brilliant work secured his client's acquittal. He had a strong belief that the man was innocent until the trial was all over. Then he changed his opinion. Edwards paid Mr. Evans his fee with a forged check.

Are School Children Overworked?

A distinguished German expert in school hygiene, Dr. Schmidt-Monnard, of Halle, has found the number of sick among the children attending morning and afternoon sessions by one-half greater than among children who attend sessions in the forenoon only.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

Buy Summer Muslins At Such Prices As

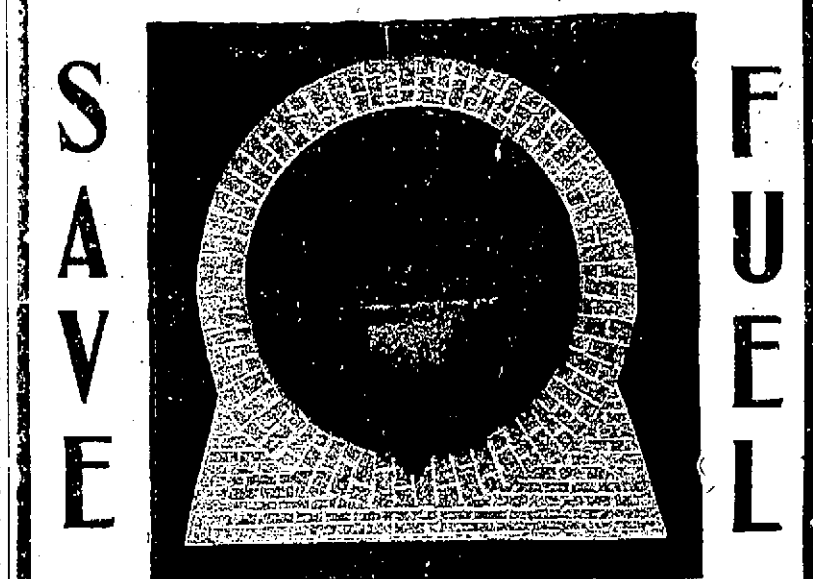

5c, 8c, 12c, 19, 25c.

We are selling loads of summer wash goods because we are making it an inducement for women to buy. Several thousand yards of wash goods have been reduced that formerly sold for 8c to 50c. The striped effects make up very pretty for wrappers or kimono. One can get a beautiful dress for little money; a few yards of lace or ribbon and one has a suit good for all summer and other summers.

29c Foulards

This is a small figure for good silk. The styles are assorted white dots on grounds of green, blue, brown, slate and black. The width is 18 inches. These Foulard Silks, consisting of about 1000 yards, were bought under price and we offer them at such a price to turn them quickly. The price is indeed low, but the quality of the silk is good. We recommend them for wear. What a cool summer gown they would make.

FISKE CHEAP FUEL FURNACE

The LELAND A. FISKE CHEAP FUEL FURNACE does more than is claimed for it. I am prepared now to demonstrate the efficiency of my furnace and can explain why it will do on half the fuel better work than other furnaces; why one ton of cheap soft coal will do the work of a ton of hard coal in other furnaces. If you want a furnace, write me and I will show you why it is the best on earth. HOT AIR, WATER OR STEAM. Those who communicated with me last year and are still in the market—please try me again.
